*Vietnam:

North Vietnam: The Chinese Communists have apparently moved another antiaircraft artillery division into south China, possibly to release a unit already there for duty in North Vietnam.

The arrival of the new unit raises the total number of Chinese antiaircraft divisions in the Nan-ning - Ning-ming area of south China to at least five and possibly as many as seven. The normal contingent in this area until October 1967 was three.

The Chinese now have four AAA divisions in North Vietnam, two of which may be due for normal rotation back to China.

South Vietnam: Enemy mortar attacks and skirmishes were reported in scattered sections of South Vietnam on 21-22 December but no large scale fighting developed. [REDACTED]
